

With the expansion of mission work came the need to provide educational materials for believers in other countries and cultures. Periodicals, books, songs and hymns have been translated into various languages worldwide.

In 2000, LLC launched its first website, laestadianlutheran.org, and began online sermon broadcasts.

In 2010, Unto This Day the Lord Has Helped, Peter Nevala's manuscript on the spiritual history of living Christianity in North America was published.

In 2008, a new Songs and Hymns of Zion hymnal was published, a result of years of sourcing, researching, translating, editing and revising songs, lyrics, melodies and arrangements.

Growing interest in music education in Zion greatly helped to increase the number of LLC music publications.
